

{ DANIEL GRAHN }

Computer Scientist

7405 N Hawthorne Ln
Indianapolis, IN 46250
(317) 332.2033
dan@grahn.us
www.grahn.us

Objective

Obtain an internship in the field of computer science where I can increase my technical and professional abilities as well as contribute to the overall knowledge of the science.

Education

Cedarville University (2013)

Bachelor of Science Computer Science, GPA: 3.2

Minor in Bible

Honors

- Eagle Scout
- Cedarville University Dean's List (2010)

Skills

- Expertise in PHP, CSS, HTML5, Javascript (w/Jquery), XML, and SQL
- Proficiency in C++, Java, C#, and Python
- Experience working in Visual Studio, Netbeans, Eclipse, many linux distributions, Windows XP/Vista/7, and Adobe's Creative Suites
- Excellent written and oral communication
- Aptitude for web and print design
- Learning Ruby and Rails

Experience

Cedarville University Autonomous Surface Vehicle Team (2010-present)

- Developing completely autonomous boat for competition.
- Developing image processing software.

Cedarville University SAE Supermileage Team (2009-present)

- Developing software to send realtime data over network connections.
- Refactoring existing software for stability and performance.

Escape Plan Design (2009-present)

- Developing and deploying CMS based websites for business and individuals.
- Designing websites, brochures, promotional materials, etc.

Cedarville University Computer Services (2010-2010)

- Creating database driven iDevice application.
- Collaborating on project design with team.

Main-1-Media (2006-2009)

- Developing CMS based websites for business.
- Working in teams to ensure project completion.

Activities

Member of ACM; Church worship leader (2009-present); guitarist and mandolinist; church youth group sponsor (summers); Cedarville University Junior Jam small group leader; Cedarville University CedarMania small group leader;